In fact, a good leader is always needed for successful work. I want to talk about a clever one of these leaders. I think she is a role model. She always motivates and encourages people around her all the time. She never feels bored or sad because she is a cheerful one. Once she gets tired of doing something, she smiles and gives us hope to go on. Also, she never lets us feel bad or get lost while working. In addition, she has made a complete change in dealing with problems and solving them. Her advice at work is "Never feel upset, never feel stressed and never put much pressure on you."

When she knows about something bad that has happened to a friend, she feels it herself and starts to help at once. One of her sayings is "Teachers at schools are like our brothers and sisters. They are actually our colleagues. We should help them to be better". Unluckily, this great woman retired, but she is and will ever be with us.

Osama's class have been learning about the environment in their science lessons. Students have been studying the effects of pollution from vehicles. They also have been reading about how poisons from factories pollute rivers and seas. They all agree that everyone should do more to help the environment. Their teacher, Mr. Helmy asked them to think of things that they could do. The students made lots of suggestions. Radwan said that people should walk more and use their cars less. This would keep the cities cleaner and people would be healthier. Khaled said they should build car parks outside the city centre where people could leave their cars. They could then walk the rest of the way into the city. Osama suggested having a bottle bin in the school where students could put their empty plastic bottles. These could be collected and recycled. Mr Helmy thought these were very good ideas and said he would pass them on to the head teacher.
